🚫 Can You Transfer a Frontier Ticket to Someone Else?

+1 » [877] » (622) » [0707]

No, Frontier Airlines does not allow ticket transfers.

- The ticket is issued only for the original passenger
- The name on the ticket must match your government ID
- You cannot replace the traveler with a different person

This rule is standard across most airlines for security and pricing control reasons.

🔍 Why Are Tickets Non-Transferable?

+1 » [877] » (622) » [0707]

There are two main reasons:

1. Security Requirements

- Airlines must verify passenger identity
- Names must match official ID at the airport

2. Fare Control

- Prevents resale of cheaper tickets
- Ensures pricing fairness

Because of these rules, airlines—including Frontier—do not allow passenger swaps.

🔄 What Can You Do Instead?

Even though you can't transfer your ticket, you still have options:

✔ 1. Cancel Your Ticket

- You may cancel before departure
- You might receive travel credit (depending on fare rules)

✔ 2. Book a New Ticket

- The new traveler must purchase their own ticket
- Prices may vary based on availability

✔ 3. Use 24-Hour Rule (If Eligible)

- Cancel within 24 hours for a full refund (if conditions apply)

✏ Name Changes vs Ticket Transfers

Many travelers confuse these two:

- ✔ Name correction → Allowed (fix typos or legal updates)
- ❌ Name change to another person → Not allowed

Frontier only permits corrections for the same traveler, not substitutions.

⚠ What Happens If You Try to Transfer?

If someone else tries to use your ticket:

- They will be denied boarding
- Security checks will fail
- The ticket becomes invalid
